

Google Meet

Overview

Hangouts Meet Premium Until July 1st, 2020

During the COVID-19 mitigation effort, Google is providing their paid Premium version of Google Meet to educational institutions \(and others\) for Free.

Google Meet is video-conferencing and telepresence software. Users in Google Meet can simply send a link to anyone with a Gmail account to invite that person to join them in a meeting. Meet invites created using Google Calendar will now default to Meet. Meet is only available using Google Chrome. You may access the "Google Meet" app via MyUWF.

For further information regarding Google Meet, please visit Google Meet training and help.

What is "Google Meet"?

Google Meet allows you to hold:

- impromptu meetings on the go
- international virtual training classes
- remote interviews
- and more

Google Meet allows a meeting for up to 25 people at a time (unlimited meeting duration).

Please note that Meet may also be used for chat only if audio and video are disabled but it is advised to use Google Chat for university chat communication.

System Requirements

Meet supports the current version and two previous major releases of the following operating systems:

- MacOS
- Windows
- ChromeOS
- Ubuntu and other debian-based linux distributions.

Web browser support

Currently, Google Chrome is the only supported internet browser (version must be up-to-date).

Hardware Requirements

- Webcam and Microphone
- Quad Core processor or greater for streaming HD Video

How to create or join a video meeting

Please refer to Google Meet training and help for instructions to start or join a video meeting using your UWF G Suite account.

Mobile Device Support

